DANIEL ROPER IS TO QUIT CABINET ON DECEMBER 23

Secretary Of Commerce Plans Return To Private Life

SOON LEAVE FOR THE SOUTHLAND

Rumors Of Other Shifts In Official Family Since Election

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—(AP)—President Roosevelt accepted today the resignation of Secretary of Commerce Daniel Roper, effective December 23.

The president said in a letter, made public by the white house, that he knew the "impelling personal reasons" which prompted Roper to ask to be relieved of his duties and "I accept your resignation with very sincere regret."

Roper's resignation was the second among cabinet members within recent weeks. Attorney General Cummings has resigned to resume law practice.

Other Changes Rumored

Rumors of other changes in the cabinet have circulated ever since the Nov. 8 election. Among those who have been mentioned in that connection are Secretary of War Woodring and Secretary of the Navy Swanson.

The white house announcement said Roper wanted to return to private life to attend to personal affairs.

Roper's letter of resignation disclosed he had expressed to the president on several occasions since March 4, 1937, "my desire to return to private life in order to give needed attention to my personal affairs and which I have not been able to do while in public office."

Roper asked the resignation be effective December 23 because he was planning to go south at that time.

Mr. Roosevelt said he was pleased to have assurances from the cabinet member "that your retirement to private life will in no degree affect your interest in the great objectives for which we have striven."

Mr. Roosevelt added: "I knew that without your telling me." He expressed a desire to talk with the secretary before he goes on his southern trip, "with reference to your first assignment for cooperation as a private citizen."

Speculation as to a successor dealt primarily with the name of Harry L. Hopkins, the WPA administrator and close personal friend of Mr. Roosevelt.

ROY HINKEN DIES OF INFECTED TOOTH

Roy Hinken, 37, son of W. C. Hinken, of Green Ridge, died Wednesday night at St. Joseph's hospital, Kansas City, after a few hours' illness due to an infected tooth.

Mr. Hinken was born at Stover, December 12, 1901, and later moved to Green Ridge, where he grew to manhood on a farm nearby. He graduated from Green Ridge high school, and was a member of the Methodist church, changing his membership from Green Ridge to Garden City, Kas., in which place he had made his home the last few years.

He was married in 1934 to Miss Opal Edmonds, of Garden City, who with a two and one half year old daughter, Betty Jean, survive him. He also leaves his father, two brothers, Earl and Morris, of Green Ridge, a brother, Lawrence, of Rolla, and one sister, Mrs. Grace Williams, La Monte. His mother died in 1934.

Funeral services will be held in Garden City Saturday.

PURSE STOLEN IS FOUND MINUS CASH

The pocketbook of Miss Florence Heacock, 1412 South Moniteau which was stolen Wednesday night about 7:30 o'clock while at the Broadway Presbyterian church, has been found. The pocketbook, empty however of $25, was found in a box car at New Frankling, Missouri, about 11 o'clock by a car checker.

The Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad employee at New Franklin notified Special Agent L. L. Lawrence of the M-K-T in Sedalia he had found the pocketbook which contained only a driver's license and other papers belonging to Miss Heacock.

Officers are of the opinion the pocketbook was stolen by someone who, while walking near the M-K-T tracks tossed it into an empty box car on the freight which passed through Sedalia about the time the pocketbook was first found to be missing.

SEDALIAN DIES AFTER STROKE AT THE LAMY PLANT

Superintendent Of Production Peter Schrankler Stricken Today

Peter Schrankler, better known to his numerous friends as "Pete" died at his home, 515 Dal-Whi-Mo Court at 1:25 o'clock this afternoon following a stroke suffered about 11 o'clock this morning while at work at the J. A. Lamy Manufacturing Co., Pacific street and Osage avenue, where he was plant superintendent.

Mr. Schrankler had been feeling ill for several days, but his condition did not appear alarming until he suffered the stroke while working on the second floor of the plant. Following the attack of illness he was rushed to the home in the Gillespie ambulance where Dr. John B. Carlisle gave medical attention.

Dr. Carlisle said death was due to a brain hemorrhage which continued following the stroke. His condition appeared to be fair at noon and for a brief time it appeared that Mr. Schrankler might improve.

Mr. Schrankler was born in Sedalia on November 1, 1882 the son of the late August and Christina Schrankler. He received his education in the schools of Sedalia and at the age of fourteen years went into the employment of the J. A. Lamy Manufacturing Co., and has continuously worked there.

Made Superintendent

As the years passed Mr. Schrankler was promoted to the position of plant superintendent in charge of production and acquired stock in the organization and was a member of the board of directors.

On November 4, 1908 he was married to Miss Lucille Howard of this city, who survives him as do two daughters, Mrs. Gladys Davis of Independence, Mo., and Mrs. Christine Greene of the family home. A grandson, Wayne Kent Davis, also survives and two brothers, Herbert Schrankler of 812 South Barrett avenue, and Gus Schrankler, also of Sedalia, sister, Mrs. Frances Becker, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Mr. Schrankler attended the Immanuel Evangelical church and was a member of the Sedalia lodge B. P. O. Elks and of the Granite lodge 272, A. F. & A. M.

The body was taken to the Gillespie Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements have not been made pending word from his daughter and sister.

The J. A. Lamy Manufacturing Co., will cease operations until after the funeral. However the stock room and the office will remain open until the funeral and will close during the services so that employes of the company may attend.

REPORT FIRST CHRISTMAS TREE BLAZE WEDNESDAY

The first Christmas tree fire of the season occurred at 3:55 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when the fire companies were called to the residence of H. L. Zoernig, 236 South Prospect, where a Christmas tree had caught fire due to a short in the electric light wiring. Damage amounted to about $15.

Fire Chief John Lueck warns that every precaution be taken in regard to fires from similar sources.

TREASURY DEBT IS BOOSTED TO A NEW HIGH RECORD

Spectacular Jump To About $303 For Each Person In Nation

WAR DEBTS DUE U.S. OVER TWO BILLION

This Fiscal Year Government Spending 9 Billion Increasing Deficit

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—The treasury's debt took a spectacular jump today to the unprecedented average of $303 for every man, woman and child in the country.

This was payment day for investors on $730,000,000 of new bonds and notes sold by the treasury, boosting the debt to a new record of $39,400,000,000. If the treasury's indirect obligation on $5,000,000,000 worth of securities issued by government corporations were added in, the per capita debt would be $341.

The amount due and unpaid on war debts owed the United States by European nations also reached a new peak today. It passed the $2,000,000,000 mark as another installment became due, with only Finland waiting at the counter to pay.

Interest Over Billion a Year

On the direct national debt alone, the interest cost is now more than $1,000,000,000 a year, or almost equal to the combined cost of the army and navy.

Direct treasury obligations are about 50 per cent higher than at the war period peak of $26,596,701,648 on August 31, 1919, and more than double the post-war low of $16,026,087,087 on Dec. 31, 1930.

Of the subsequent $23,375,000,000 debt increase, $4,900,000,000 was added during the last two years and two months of Herbert Hoover's administration, and $18,475,000,000 since the start of the Roosevelt administration in March, 1933.

This fiscal year, the government is spending $9,000,000,000 and expects to collect only $5,000,000,000, leaving a deficit of $4,000,000,000. This deficit must be raised by borrowing except for $1,400,000,000 obtained by the cashing in of sterilized gold and a smaller amount of cash on hand.

As for the war debts, the Finnish government advised the state department its check for $232,935.50 would be paid at the Federal Reserve Bank in New York.

No other money was expected, nor was any promise anticipated from the 12 other debtor countries to pay in the future or to propose any plan for settlement.

A total of $160,217,334.37 fell due today. The previously due and unpaid balance on debts in default since 1932 to 1934 was $1,891,489,906.63, thus making the total amount now owed $2,051,707,241.10.

The nations in default are Great Britain, France, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Italy, Hungary, Poland, Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Rumania and Yugoslavia.

The British government, which now owes a total of $1,202,827,897.13, expressed its willingness to reopen debt discussions "whenever circumstances are such as to warrant the hope that a satisfactory result might be reached."

The British have made this statement each June 15 and Dec. 15 since going into default on their debt payment several years ago. Most of the other governments have reduced their refusal to short notes stating their regret at still being in a position of being unable to pay or negotiate.

Today's installment represented $40,366,546 due on principal, $104,925,043.38 on interest and $14,925,943.99 due under moratorium agreements.

The treasury also announced expenditures passed $4,000,000,000 in the first five and a half months of the fiscal year which began July 1. On December 13, the last date for which exact figures were available, expenditures amounted to $4,002,400,533 and income amounted to $2,420,788,153, leaving a deficit of $1,581,612,380. In the similar period last year expenditures totaled $3,324,893,271 and the deficit was $675,047,437.

The deficit will dip temporarily during the remainder of the month because the last quarterly installment of taxes on 1937 income became due today.

Recovering From Operation

MORE FUNDS TO BE RAISED FOR EMPTY STOCKING PARTY

The plans for the Empty Stocking Christmas party for the underprivileged to be given at Liberty park convention hall Saturday afternoon, December 24, are taking further shape from day to day and that the little children to benefit from it may be made thoroughly happy and receive suitable gifts, more funds are necessary.

The Sedalia Round Table group sponsoring the party is anxious that those willing to contribute do so immediately so that the Yuletide treat may reach as many as possible and provide entertainment and Christmas presents, not of an expensive nature, but such as will delight the hearts of the little ones.

Various civic groups have heartily endorsed the project and are giving of their time to insure its success.

The extent of the Christmas treat depends wholly on the amount it is possible to raise and whatever contribution you can make do it now. Bring, send or mail your contribution to the Empty Stocking Fund in care of the Democrat-Capital.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce rooms a meeting of all committees for the event is to be held. Attendance of all members is desired.

GREATEST ARMS BUDGET IN FRANCE SINCE THE WAR

Debate Expected To Open New Test Of Strength For Daladier

PARIS, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Premier Daladier's national defense cabinet, warning Italy and Germany that France would fight to protect her empire, presented to parliament today the greatest arms budget since the World war.

Debate on the budget, scheduled to begin immediately, was expected to provide Daladier's opposition with a new opportunity to attack his policies and to open the way for a new test of his strength in parliament.

The portion of the budget earmarked for arms, munitions and men for the French war machine was tagged with a flat "do not touch" sign.

A total of nearly 40,000,000,000 francs (about $820,000,000) for the nation's armed forces was distributed in various parts of the ordinary and extraordinary budgets.

Finance Minister Paul Reynaud said this sum represented 65 per cent of the estimated income for 1939 or 85 percent of the actual 1938 government income.

Here is where some of the money will go:

1—To the navy, which Navy Minister Cesar Campinchi declared would have 70,000 tons of warships afloat by 1942. At present, Campinchi said, France's navy is "equal" to the combined sea forces of Italy and Germany, although the totalitarian building program will soon place the combined navies ahead.

2—To the air force, which will increase its officers by 1,347 and its noncommissioned officers and men by 18,290 through a measure attached to the budget. This would bring the total air force officers to 3,702, and men, including noncommissioned officers, to 56,000. Much of the air force money will be spent on speeding up French warplane production.

3—To the land army, which gets newer and better guns, additional motorized equipment and improved fortifications.

Foreign Minister George Bonnet told members of the chamber of deputies foreign affairs committee Italy must understand "she will never have an inch of any part of French territory no matter what means she uses."

Bonnet added he had made France's position clear to the German foreign minister, Joachim Van Ribbentrop, during the latter's visit to Paris December 6 to 8, and he had won German assurances that the Nazis were "not interested" in the Mediterranean.

France also has warned Germany in answer to Adolf Hitler's desire for colonial expansion. No serious French observers believe anything will stop Hitler from taking Memel or Danzig if he wants them, but all are worried about the Ukraine.

FUNDS TO OPERATE WPA., BE BEFORE CONGRESS EARLY

Defense Program Attention Be Among First Problems To Be Up

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Administration requests for extra army and navy appropriations and for an additional relief fund which may run as high as $800,000,000 will be the first "big money" problems before the new congress starting January 3.

Funds to operate the WPA until July must be considered early in the session, because the current allotment may be exhausted by February 15. The amount needed will depend on the size of relief rolls during the winter and spring, but WPA officials already are making preliminary estimates.

Congress also is expected to get an early start on the national defense program. Well-informed house members said today the war department has submitted to the budget bureau an estimate "somewhere between $600,000,000 and $650,000,000" to run the army in the next fiscal year. This would be between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000 above this year's total.

President Roosevelt indicated he would ask for a $150,000,000 increase for the navy, which got $546,000,000 this year.

Approval of the increases would send the appropriations for the armed services to their highest peace time level.

Controversy May Develop

Discussion of the relief appropriation is expected to touch off a controversy over the best method of handling the WPA. A number of Republicans and anti-administration Democrats want state instead of federal control.

Some aides of Administrator Harry Hopkins asked that if relief rolls continue above 3,000,000, the WPA will need about $185,000,000 a month from March to July.

A figure of $700,000,000 for the extra appropriation has been suggested by other federal experts, who believe improved business conditions will reduce the demand on WPA. These men point out relief rolls dropped from a peak of 3,262,669 on November 5 to 3,139,045 on December 10.

House subcommittees already have begun work on some of the regular appropriations bills for the coming year. President Roosevelt also is discussing his program with legislative chieftains.

Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the Democratic floor leader, talked with the President for an hour and a half yesterday. Asked whether many new proposals would be offered, Markley said:

"I doubt it. I don't know of anything in particular except what might be done with existing laws, correcting them and amending them to make them better."

PROFIT SHARING FORMULA WILL BE PRESENTED

Designed To Give Aid To Employes Of Ten Major Industries

COMPLIANCE NOT BE COMPULSORY

Vandenberg Urges Incentive Taxing Rather Than Pump Priming

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) today urged incentive taxation instead of "pump priming" in government efforts to revive business.

Predicting some form of tax deductions to encourage industrial expansion would find its way into the next federal revenue bill, Vandenberg said he believed testimony before the senate profit-sharing committee had demonstrated "incentive taxation is the major weapon for a final, successful assault upon the depression to produce a cure, American-style."

"The present administration certainly cannot complain against the philosophy of incentive taxation," Vandenberg declared.

The Michigan senator and Senator Herring (D-Ia), the members of the special profit sharing committee, are now engaged in writing their report, expected to be ready within a month. It will contain a profit-sharing formula calculated to stabilize employment and guarantee old age retirement funds for employes of ten of the country's largest industries but committee members indicated they planned no compulsory legislation.

It will be offered to industry merely as a possible method of creating longtime amicable labor relations.

Donald Despain, committee secretary, said the tentative plan would call for joint contribution by employes and employers to an irrevocable trust fund which would be set up primarily to provide retirement pay for workers. Interest on the fund, however, could be used by agreement between employers and employes to bolster payrolls and keep men at work during unemployment periods.

Despain said the committee staff would superimpose this plan on the capital structure of 56 of the country's largest corporations in ten industries to demonstrate with actual figures of net earnings that it could work successfully. Industrial fields to be covered, he said, include steel, auto, chemicals, textile, food, machinery, durable goods and three general manufacturing industries.

"This plan is the outgrowth of the staff's analysis of 500 operating profit sharing systems," Despain said, "combining what the staff believes to be the best features of the more successful efforts."

He said industries which participated would be asked to set aside a portion of their profits matching contributions made to the trust fund by employes. In case of emergency, interest on the previous year's combined payments to the fund could be used to keep up the employment level.

He estimated this interest would reach a "substantial sum" after the fund had been held in trust for five years.

SPECIAL SENIOR ASSEMBLY HELD

A special senior high school assembly was held at 11:00 this morning in the Smith-Cotton auditorium.

Miss Patricia Poundstone, president of the senior student council, turned the meeting over to Paul Lingle, class president, who told the student body of a project that the school council, Spiz club and L club are sponsoring. Some objections have reached members of the faculty and the student body about the disturbance caused by enthusiastic fans at the high school during basket ball games, plays and other activities. Often parents and other attendants have been unable to see parts of the program because of this reason.

The idea presented by Lingle was that the first front half of the middle section in the auditorium be reserved for parents, and other adults attending the evening's program.

Miss Mary Lu Reid, representing the Spiz and Buddy Agniel representing the council and as president of the junior class, both gave their recommendation for the movement.

Bothwell Hospital Notes.

Betty Jean Snyder, 712 East Eighteenth street, R. M. Shields, Houstonia and Katherine D. Sanders, of Houstonia, had their tonsils taken out this morning.

DAMAGES CEDARS AT A CEMETERY

Joseph R. Smetana, in charge of Memorial Park, said today that there are now two persons who may be in "the meanest person" class. One, he said, is the man who bought a fine big steak for his wife, then took her false teeth away. The other is the person who ruined two large cedar trees at the Memorial Park cemetery recently to obtain two small Christmas trees.

Some one, said Mr. Smetana, cut into the large trees taking out a part of each, no doubt to be used as a small Christmas decoration. The damage to the trees will be about $20, much more than many Christmas trees would cost.

"If they thought they were getting something especially nice they are going to be disappointed," said Mr. Smetana, "because they are not. The cedar is the sticky kind that will not be suitable for Christmas trees."

FAVORS FEDERAL FUNDS TO SHARE DIRECT RELIEF

George I. Haworth For Splitting Assistance Cost With States

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 15—(AP)—Social Security Administrator George I. Haworth told the St. Joseph Chamber of Commerce today a demand would be made on the federal government to share with the states in the cost of direct relief—the "sagging corner of the public assistance structure."

Referring to a meeting of the American public welfare association which he attended in Washington last week with 45 other state administrators, Haworth said:

"They were virtually unanimous in the belief that some system must be devised whereby the state and federal governments split the cost of direct relief, just as they do the cost of old age assistance and aid to dependent children.

"So long as the federal government shares in these other forms of relief on a matching basis while failing to do so as regards direct relief, the matching programs are going to be favored over that which must come entirely out of the state treasury.

"For we now realize that local communities can no longer be expected to bear a large part of the burden. In fact, there are few indeed in Missouri which have taken as good care of their indigent citizens as have the good people of Buchanan county."

Buchanan county has voted two bond issues for direct relief purposes. It is one of the few counties in the state which has tried to supply 40 per cent of the money for direct relief, as asked by the social security commission.

Funds Through WPA

The federal government now furnishes no funds for the direct relief program, which is designed to care for unemployable families, but supplies all of the funds for employable family heads through the WPA.

The Missouri commission requested $15,500,000 for direct relief in 1939 and 1940 but the state budget department pared this to $5,000,000 in its recommendations to Gov. Lloyd C. Stark. Other social security requests were trimmed $8,500,000.

Haworth declared: "We all realize that when budgetary requests of all state departments total $81,000,000 and the total anticipated state revenue is only $62,000,000 . . ., one of two things must be done. Either additional taxes must be levied or the budget must be cut.

"I am confident every one here today is in full accord with Governor Stark's efforts to give Missouri an economical administration.

"And I am confident you all stand squarely behind the governor in his effort to hold taxes within their present bounds. He does not want Missouri taxpayers to have to dig down for another $19,000,000 every two years if it is possible to avoid it."

MOTHER OF ARTHUR M. HYDE IS DEAD

COLUMBIA, Mo., Dec. 15—(AP)—Mrs. Ira L. Hyde, 76, mother of former governor, Arthur M. Hyde, died in a hospital here late Wednesday of heart disease.

She is survived by three other children: Supreme Court Commissioner A. Laurance Hyde of Jefferson City, Ira Hyde, Jr., of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Brown Glenn of Columbia. Arthur Hyde lives at Trenton.

Mrs. Hyde had come here to spend the winter with her daughter and had been ill in the hospital a month. Funeral services will be held Saturday at Princeton, her home.

FIRST SIGNS OF CONFLICT IN THE PARLEY AT LIMA

Mexican-Argentine Proposals On Properties To Be Opposed

WOULD LIMIT THE PROTECTIVE RIGHTS

Would Likewise Put Ban On Collection Of Debts Through Force

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 15.—(AP)—The United States laid before the Pan-American conference today a project for unifying all existing Pan-American peace, conciliation and arbitration agreements into one fundamental constitution of peace for the western hemisphere.

The proposal formed a 12-page document containing 23 exhaustive articles.

It does not carry existing agreements any further and makes no fundamental changes except in regard to arbitration.

This followed disclosure by Argentine delegation leaders that Argentina had taken a dominant position in negotiations over a plan for continental solidarity and that the United States had abandoned all hopes for a pact against outside aggression in favor of a mere declaration of policy.

From the beginning of discussions before the conference of 21 nations opened Dec. 9, Argentina has opposed a definite non-aggression pact, while the United States, although willing to compromise the matter, hoped for something more precise than only a statement of policy.

LIMA, Peru, Dec. 15.—The first signs of conflict at the Pan-American conference developed today over Mexican-Argentine proposals which in effect could involve manifold United States interests in the Americas.

Of marked importance in view of Mexican-United States controversies over Mexican exportation of foreign oil and agricultural properties, the resolutions within limits would deprive foreigners of diplomatic protection from their home government and ban the collection of government debts through force.

While the 21 nations appeared proceeding toward full agreement on the need for common action against dangers of foreign incursion, no such easy course presented itself for the new resolutions.

They involve questions of international law and if accepted by the United States, which was unlikely, would have this result:

A United States citizen or corporation purchasing land or obtaining concessions in another American country could not appeal to his government for help if he felt his rights were violated—provided he renounced those rights when he made the deal.

Meet With Opposition.

Conference informants indicated the United States, Colombia and Venezuela would be leading opponents of the joint Argentine-Mexican resolution against collection of government debts by force.

Colombia and Venezuela are among those countries desiring further United States industrial investments, and their delegations were said to oppose any startling resolutions which discourage investment unnecessarily.

The Mexican resolution, committing American governments to pledge themselves "not to attempt to impart protection" in cases where their citizens sought to renounce their rights, referred to individuals or industries incorporated under laws of an American state.

The inference was incorporation deprived them of protection from their own government. One principle of United States foreign policy consistently has been that American citizens could not relinquish their rights to American protection.

LOVE THAT CONQUERED A MOUNTAIN

Love came to them at the top of the mountain and the mountain brought them their greatest test. There was a time when Sally Blair despaired ever of gaining the heights again. How faith and an extraordinary kind of devotion did win at last, and actually conquered a mountain—is told in a tender new serial story of young romance.

WINNING HOLSTEIN HERD GRAZING ON BARLEY PASTURE NEAR SMITHTON

Above: Grade Holstein herd owned by Olen Monsees, Smithton, which produced an average of 32.9 pounds of butterfat per cow in November. Note that the cattle are grazing on barley pasture.

The highest producing herd in the Pettis County Dairy Herd Improvement Association during the months of October and November was the Holstein herd owned by Ilen Monsees, Smithton. The average pounds of butterfat produced per cow in this herd in October was 29.9 and 32.9 pounds in November.

Mr. Monsees also had two cows in October and five cows in November in the ten high producing cows in the Association for each month.

A registered Jersey in the Bois d'Arc herd at Hughesville was the high producing cow in the Association in November with a production of 61.9 pounds of butterfat and 1,209 pounds of milk.

One of the factors contributing to the high production in the Monsees herd in the past two months is the availability and use of barley pasture on the farm. A twenty-acre bottom field on the farm was seeded to Missouri Early Beardless barley during the first week in September. On October 1, thirty head of mature cows and five small heifers were turned on to the barley and continued there through October and and November except for a ten-day period when the ground was wet. They are still on the barley pasture. The cows also run in a 13-acre stock field which joins the barley; however, practically all of their grazing has been on the barley.

In the two months' period, from October 1 to December 1, a total of 75 cattle days pasture per acre have been secured from the barley. Mr. Monsees estimates the value of the pasture for his dairy herd at $7.50 per acre for the period. During this two months' period, it has been necessary to feed only a half ration of roughage, which consists of silage, lespedeza, and soybean hay. In addition to this saving in roughage, Mr. Monsees estimates he secured an increase of five pounds of butterfat per cow per month from the pasture.

There was a total of 396 cows in the Association in the month of November of which 63 were dry. The average production per cow was 459 pounds of milk and 20.9 pounds of butterfat. The Association had five cows that produced over 50 pounds of butterfat and 15 producing over 40 but under 50 pounds of fat. Also, there were 20 cows in the Association which produced more than 1,000 pounds during the month.

The five high producing herds for the month of November were:

	Breed	No. Cows	Avg. Milk Lbs.	Avg. Fat Lbs.
Olen Monsees	G. Holstein	30	910	32.9
Ernest Thompson	G. Jersey	13	601	27.6

MAY BARTER MILLION IN OIL WITH JAPANESE

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Mexico was reliably reported to be negotiating a $1,000,000 barter oil deal with Japan in a vigorous drive to find foreign markets for her gushing wells expropriated from foreign companies March 18.

While it was denied at the government petroleum department that a deal was pending, other sources said negotiations had been under way for weeks on a basis that would provide Japan with $1,000,000 worth of oil annually.

THE BEER OF THE YEAR

FARR CONFIDENT HE CAN BEAT LOU NOVA ON FRIDAY

Announces If He Is Badly Beaten He Will Quit The Ring

By DREW MIDDLETON

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Dec. 15.—(AP)—It would be a pleasure to write that the years have mellowed Thomas George Paul Farr. They have not. He still is hard, penurious and tremendously assured. He thinks he will beat Lou Nova, the promising California heavyweight, Friday night. If he does not he will quit the ring.

The willing Welsh heavyweight, no Dale Carnegie at best, is as easy to get along with as a wildcat with a toothache these days. He is training out here and it does not improve his temper. He will, however, talk your arm off at the drop of a sparring partner.

"If I am badly beaten I will quit. I will know I have come as far as I can in the ring. I have a little money, not much by American standards, but, man, when I think of the days when I didn't have a bob to my name it's like millions.

"But I am entirely confident I can win. Despite the fact I lost my three fights in this country, I did go the distance with 'Louie; I believe I beat Jim Braddock, although the judges thought different, and I gave Max Baer a good thumping. Why, he told me if I had hit him a couple more in the belly he would have quit."

Tommy is in wonderful shape. He is down to 203 and will go in at 204 against Nova. He has been hitting the road each morning and his legs and wind are in shape for 15 or 50 rounds.

"I am in good enough shape to beat Nova or anyone else," said this blushing violet, after he had assaulted a couple of hired hands. "If Gunnar Barlund can knock him down I can knock him out."

This rough citizen from the mountains of Wales learned his fighting in the hardest school in the world, the boxing stalls of country fairs and the bare knuckle bouts in the coal pits. Compared to them the gymnasium and amatuer tourney surroundings of young boxers here are soft touches.

CHEMISTS LOSE IN CLOSE GAME 38-31

Although the American Disinfecting Company 'Chemists" basketball team played a nice game and were seven points in the lead with six minutes to play, they lost to the Cruse Drug Company of Eldorado Springs 38 to 31. The Chemists displayed their best offensive game. However, several fouls in the last few minutes enabled Eldorado to sink numerous free throws and overcome the Chemists lead.

Captain Bunny Taylor played a very exceptional game, not only making 15 points off the second all-American, Charley Workman, formerly of Warrensburg Teachers, but also played a brilliant floor game. Forest Zey played his best game of the year holding Workman to three field goals.

Boeschen, tall center of Eldorado was high point man for that team with 12 points, six of them free throws. He was closely followed by Johnson with 10 points and Workman with 9 points. The Chemists still think they will win one of these nights and are looking forward to that time.

Friday night the Chemists journey to Marshall where they will play the strong Coca Cola Bottling Company team.

CHIEF COMEBACK IN SPORTS IS BY TENNIS CHAMP

Helen Wills Moody At Top Over Jimmy Foxx and Dizzy Dean

(Note: This is fourth of a series analyzing results of the eighth annual Associated Press sports poll. It deals with replies of the nation's sports editors to the question: "What were the leading sports comebacks of 1938?")

By HERBERT W. BARKER

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Heroine of the outstanding sports comeback of 1938 is Helen Wills Moody.

The talented San Francisco tennis player earned the No. 1 bracket in a close race with Jimmie Foxx, clouting first baseman of the Boston Red Sox.

Twenty-four of the 70 sports critics participating in the eighth annual Associated Press poll cast their first-place ballots for Mrs. Moody and her achievement in winning the Wimbledon championship after a three-year lapse. Twenty-four other first-place votes went to Foxx for recapturing the American League batting crown for the first time since 1933—and that after a poor season in 1937. But second and third place support swung the decision to Mrs. Moody, who rolled up 113½ points against 97 for Foxx.

Points were awarded on a 3-2-1 basis with each expert naming three comebacks in the order of his choice.

The result marked the second time in four years that Mrs. Moody figured prominently in the "comeback" section of the poll. In 1935, when she emerged from a two-year retirement to defeat Helen Jacobs for the Mimbledon title, Mrs. Moody finished second to Jimmy Braddock in the annual poll.

Dizzy To Third Place

Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean, who followed a late-season comeback with a well-pitched, though losing, game in the world series, took third place in the final standings by a narrow margin over Joe Louis, heavyweight champion, and Solly Kreiger, N. B. A. middleweight champion. Louis figured in a "comeback" role on the score of his one-round knockout of Max Schmeling, avenging his 1936 set-back at the German's hands.

The poll covered a wide-range of "comebacks," 42 in all. One with added a 43rd—Hugh R. Wilson, American ambassador to Germany who "come back" to report on the Jewish problem.

The tabulated results:

	1st	T. P.
Helen Wills Moody, Individual Wimbledon tennis champion	24	113½
Jimmie Foxx, Boston Red Sox first baseman	24	97
Dizzy Dean, Chicago Cubs' pitcher	1	26½
Joe Louis, heavyweight champion	4	25
Solly Krieger, New York middleweight	4	24
Hank Greenberg, Detroit first baseman	3	16
Lefty Grove, Boston Red Sox pitcher	2	11
Howard Jones, Southern Calif. football coach	0	11
Vernon Gomez, New York Yankees' pitcher	1	7
Paul Derringer, Cincinnati Reds' pitcher	1	6

YANKEES TO GET LOOK AT PRESIDENTIAL PITCHING

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—(AP)—The New York Yankees, who fared all right on all other kinds, will get a look at presidential pitching next spring.

The world champions drew the assignment to open the American League season at Washington next April 17.

Pittsburgh will play at Cincinnati the same day to inaugurate the National League campaign, with all other clubs in both leagues swinging into action on the 18th.

NIGHT BASEBALL NEXT SEASON FOR THE AMERICANS

Boston Club Swap Chapman To Indians For Two Players

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—(AP)—Having adopted a uniform ball, finally admitted the inevitability of night baseball and accomplished some scattered trades, the big league magnates wind up their midwinter gabfest today in a joint appearance before Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis to report what they have accomplished.

The Boston Americans, last night, sent Ben Chapman, Boston's hard hitting outfielder, to Cleveland for Pitcher Dennis Galehouse and Rookie Infielder Tommy Irwin.

The exchange was a hasty concoction by which the Red Sox hope to reinforce their pitching staff and the Indians to solve the wobbly outfield problem with a walloping outfielder.

Chapman hit .340 last season, sufficient to rank him among the leaders even in the hard hitting American league. But he will be thirty years old come Christmas day and has spent nine years in the big show.

Galehouse came up to Cleveland five years ago as a promising right hander. He is still promising. Last year he won 7 and lost 8 in 36 starts which leaves him safe for the Red Sox if he has a payoff in his system.

Beyond this transaction, the owners can't show Landis, the old dictator of the dugouts, much they have done toward shaving the embarrassing superiority of the New York Yankees. Although not admitting as much, this must have been an aim of the other owners.

Yet at this semi-final accounting, about all they have done is compromise on a uniform ball. This will be viewed as an effort to stem the Yankees' power, because the raised seams were found last season to give the National league pitchers better control and to lend wider sweep to their curves. However, demonstrations have proved the ball travels just as far as the old lively sphere when hit solidly.

Owner Clark Griffith of Washington apparently has shoved through an amendment to the rules that will help some of the pitchers. It provides that the hurler need have only one foot on the rubber at the start of his wind-up. The other foot (the left one in the case of a right hand hurler) may be well back. This gives the pitcher a longer sweep with his free leg, as Griff, an old pitcher himself, demonstrated.

Night baseball broke down the final barrier when the American leaguers granted Cleveland and Philadelphia permission to play seven nocturnal games each next season. The National league accepted the lights two years ago, and it had to come to the American.

OLD TIME GRIDSTERS TERMED TOUGHER

By RUSSELL J. NEYLAND

POLO ALTO, Calif., Dec. 15.—(AP)—Football players of thirty and forty years ago were tougher and hardier than their cousins of today but the game itself is more strenuous now than in the shin guard and whiskers era, says Glenn Scobey "Pop" Warner.

Warner, one of the ancients of the coaching profession, speaks with the wisdom acquired over a period approaching half a century. Next year will be his 45th since he played guard at Cornell, captained and helped mentor the team in his senior year.

For six seasons now he has coached at Temple and he hopes "to continue in the game for a while yet." He's seen a lot of football—at Iowa State, Georgia, Carlisle, Pittsburgh and Stanford, among others.

His scrap books date back to days when he was a piano-legged stalwart, a college boxing star as bell as gridiron hero. Pointing to an "action" picture of the Harvard-Cornell game of 1894, played at Manhattan field, New York City, he said:

"Here's why I say football is more strenuous today. In this picture 21 of the 22 players are on their feet. We pushed and pulled each other around. We were as close together as sardines in a can. Our blocking consisted of nudging with the shoulders.

"It makes me laugh to think of comparing our old game with the modern variety. It's wide open now. The players have distances to go and gather momentum for their blocks. When they hit, they really mean it. Somebody goes down. It was developed into a slam bang game, played by vigorous young men.

At the same time, I think the earlier day athletes had more stamina. The reason is they were trained to last a whole game. It was longer then, too, 35 minutes to to a half. We had fewer substitutes. A fellow who didn't stick out a contest considered himself a sissy, just about.

"It is my personal opinion that a boy nowadays who can't stand a full game isn't much of an athlete. Figures show that with so much time out, the entire action is confined to eleven or twelve minutes."

YES, IT'S HORROR-MAN BORIS KARLOFF AND HE'S AT THE UPTOWN STARTING FRIDAY IN "WEST OF SHANGHAI"

What happens to Americans held captive in the war zones? Straight from today's headlines comes a super-thrilling story of a modern Orient with Boris Karloff as the heartless general "Wu Yen Fang." Ricardo Cortez and Beverly Roberts support Karloff in the thrilling story of the mysterious East.

The companion hit features Bob Baker and Constance Moore in a brand-new hit western "The Last Stand," and tells the exciting story of flaming vengeance . . . of the cattle rustlers and their death-raids . . . Bob Baker is one of the best of the younger cowboy stars . . . so here's a program for the whole family to enjoy.

Three new song hits highlights the latest picture triumph of America's Number One screen star—Shirley Temple in "Just Around The Corner," coming Tuesday for three days to the Liberty theatre. Written by Walter Bullock and Harold Spina, the new songs are being heard on all the radio networks these days as they make their rhythmic, tuneful way to the top of the hit list.

The songs are: "This Is a Happy Little Ditty," "I Love To Walk In The Rain" and "Brass Buttons and Epaulettes."

Charles Farrell, Joan Davis, Amanda Duff, Bert Lahr and Bill Robinson are featured in the cast, which also includes Franklin Pangborn, Cora Witherspoon and Bennie Bartlett.

"Just Around the Corner" is hailed as one of the best screen stories ever written for Shirley Temple. Ethel Hill, J. P. McEvoy and Darrell Ware collaborated on the scenario, which is based on an original story by Paul Gerard Smith.

Society AND Clubs

The Helen G. Steele Music club had its annual Christmas program Wednesday afternoon in an appropriate setting at the Heard Memorial clubhouse, which was decorated with Christmas trees, evergreen and lighted tapers.

Slides of photographs of twenty original paintings of Madonna and Child, representing the works of the masters of different countries, were shown by Rev. Oscar J. Rumpf. Included in the paintings were Leonardo da Vinci's "Madonna of the Rocks," Michaelangelo's "Holy Family," Van Eyck's "Madonna," Titian's "Madonna," and the "Madonna" by Hans Holbein, the younger.

Talks accompanying the presentation of the slides were given by Mrs. D. P. Dyer, Mrs. Frank Wilson and Miss Jessie Blair.

Interspersed with the displaying and descriptions of the paintings, characteristic musical selections were given. Two guest artists, Prof. W. B. Hert and Burney Morriss, music instructor at Smith-Cotton high school, appeared on the program. Prof. Hert played a violin solo, Schubert's "Ave Maria," accompanied by Miss Martha Redmond, and Mr. Morriss sang Bach's "Mighty Lord and King."

Other selections were a two piano number, "Joy of Man's Desiring," by Bach and arranged by Myra Heff, played by Miss Redmond and Miss Alberta Roach, and a vocal solo "Gesus Bambino" by Yon, sung by Mrs. E. F. Yancey.

This part of the program concluded with the club members singing Christmas carols, lead by the club chorus.

A clever puppet show, "The Peppermint Boy" was then presented by Harvey Brimmer, Jr., Patsy Rissler, Bobby Bothwell and Frank Barnes Long.

During the business meeting, preceding the program, the club voted to furnish the apples for the Empty Stockings for the Community Christmas party to be given December 24.

A recital on January 11, the next meeting date of the club, will be presented by Mrs. C. D. Demand, contralto, and Miss Mabel DeWitt pianist.

"Christmas Customs in the Colonies" will be the topic of the program to be presented by Miss Jessie Browneller at the Christmas meeting of the Osage chapter of the D. A. R. to be held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Leach.

The annual custom of providing gifts of food for the Melita Day Nursery will be continued this year, and members are to bring their gifts to the meeting Saturday.

Hostesses who are to assist Mrs. Leach will be Miss Rebie Shaeffer, Mrs. Grace M. Young, Mrs. J. I. Whitsel, Mrs. W. H. Arnold and Miss Tracy Berry.

EDEN'S RECEPTION MORE IMPORTANT THAN HIS WORDS

What Anthony Eden has had to say on his visit to America has not been nearly as important as the way he has been received.

It is a long time since a visitor from overseas has been greeted with the interest and the enthusiasm which have met Mr. Eden. From the moment his ship docked in New York he has been the center of an intense and eager expectancy which has gone far beyond ordinary friendliness or mere curiosity.

And the significance of that fact ought not to be lost on anyone.

For Mr. Eden has come to be regarded on this side of the Atlantic as the one great idealist of Europe. He is looked upon, that is, as one man who weighs the actions and policies of the day in scales other than those of mere expediency; as a man who somehow stands for the best that there is in democracy and freedom as they face the threat of a revived and greedy tyranny.

* * *

It may well be that this is not an accurate picture of the man. It is entirely possible that it does less than justice to his former colleagues in the British government. Yet these things are, for the moment, beside the point.

What matters is that a European who does seem to stand for something beyond and above the "practical necessities" of power politics has drawn from America such a response as has been given to few visitors in recent memory.

Why should this be? Why have so many people vested this dapper young statesman with the attributes of a plumed knight; and why, having done so, do they give him such an eager welcome and wait so anxiously to hear what he has to say?

It can only be because the mass of the people, here and elsewhere, are waiting desperately for someone to tell them how and where they can make a stand for the civilization, the scale of values, the free and orderly way of life, which are nowadays so greatly threatened.

We grew up in a society which took certain things for granted; freedom, the sanctity of the individual's rights, the assumption that the race has enough of a common fund of intelligence, decency and good-will to find its own way out of its troubles, the belief that might does not and cannot make right. Today's world actively threatens all of those values. Scores of millions of people are the enthusiastic followers of men who loudly deny that the ideals we have lived for have the slightest validity.

* * *

In the face of these contemptuous denials we have not known how to act. The best we have been able to do is follow a policy of drift and compromise. We can see its perils but we can think of nothing better, and our leaders do not seem to have anything better to offer either.

So when a man who does seem to have a positive answer appears—a man who seems to represent a rallying-point around which the ideals of a free society may be defended—he gets an amazing response. And the chance that we may have an unreal notion of what Mr. Eden really stands for does not in the least alter the significance of that fact.

Ladies of the middle 19th century used horseradish as a gentle skin stimulant.

THE HEAD OF TSIN HO ZON

It occurs to us there may be a lesson for the war lords of Nippon in the placid philosophy of Tsin Ho Zon, a Chinese smuggler of opium.

It's a far cry from Gotham to Hankow but Tsin Ho Zon, sentenced to three years in prison by New York Magistrate Moscowitz, and under international treaty scheduled for deportation to China and the headsman's ax in 1941, speaks for China when he says: "I'll worry about the headsman when that worthy catches up with me."

Tsin Ho Zon, who refused a 10-year sentence offered to delay his encounter with the ax, symbolizes the Chinese conception of Time that will prove, in the long run, to be Japan's biggest obstacle in the conquest of China.

SAME OLD STORY

Stop us if you've heard this one before: "The larger universities apparently have cast their policies irrevocably along the lines of high-powered athletes. They might authorize strictly professional full-time teams to play their respective colors and furnish the spectacular holiday exhibitions, just as professional baseball and football teams represent cities."—Dr. Clement C. Williams, president of Lehigh University.

Yes, sir, it's our old friend "over emphasis" again. Which reminds us of an idea we've been harboring for some time now. How about de-emphasizing the emphasis on overemphasis?

"Pitch C," the standard note from which all others are tuned, has 512 vibrations per minute.

Excluding the Australian continent, Greenland is the world's largest island, with an area of 827,300 square miles.

The average weight of a man's brain is 3 pounds 8 ounces, as compared with a woman's brain of 2 pounds 11 ounces.

It is a good idea to check automobile spring shackles frequently. It is just as bad to have them too tight as too loose.

• SO THEY SAY

I am glad to be talking pure science instead of politics.—Herbert Hoover at Carnegie Institution trustees' meeting in Washington.

She called it artistic temperament but it was just temper.—Albert Pritchard of Philadelphia asking a divorce.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

TRADE MARK — REGISTERED

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

HOLLYWOOD — Charlie Chaplin has decided that the only way to kill dictatorships is through ridicule. Accordingly, he is going back to the screen to produce a photographic satire of Hitler and Mussolini.

If the film comes up to all that Hollywood hears about it, these two gentlemen will be sputtering all over two continents. They will see themselves impersonated by the veteran comedians Weber and Fields, who open the picture as deadly enemies, finally pool forces in rare slapstick comedy.

The upraised hand of the Fascist salute, token of tribute to dictators, in this movie will mean exactly what the schoolboy wants it to mean when he raises his hand to leave the room.

"This film," says Charles Chaplin, "is the only thing sufficient to shake off my lethargy and make me go to work again."

Foreign Censorship

Chief speculation in Hollywood is whether Neville Chamberlain will permit Chaplin's dictator film to be shown in Great Britain. Charlie thinks not.

Chamberlain is too friendly with Hitler," he says. "I am counting he British market completely out, also the French."

This illustrates how the dictators of Europe exercise an indirect but very real censorship over Hollywood as a matter of everyday routine.

It is a box-office censorship. England and the Dominions today comprise 35 per cent of the film market. They often spell the difference between profit and loss. If Mussolini or Hitler, through pressure upon the British Government, suppresses a film, that film loses money.

Charlie Chaplin, wealthy, independent, sincere crusader for democracy is willing to take the loss. The big film companies are not.

It was through pressure by another government that the Turks were able to prevent the filming of that best-selling novel, "The Forty Days of Musa Dagh." It was not the protest of the Turkish Government which counted, for few films are sold there. It was the protest of the French. The Turks persuaded their close friends, the French, to threaten the suppression in France of all other films produced by that company. The company surrendered.

Note — Particularly interesting will be to see whether "The Forty Days of Musa Dagh" is released now that Mustapha Kemal, dictator of Turkey and central figure in the book, is dead.

"It Didn't Happen"

Sinclair Lewis' "It Can't Happen Here" was suppressed by the German Government, working through German businessmen, who in turn worked through New York banks. Hollywood always is particularly in hock to the banks, so "It Can't Happen Here" never happened.

Germany also has exercised censorship through tying up the assets of U. S. film companies in Germany. Hoping that these funds might be unfrozen, the companies have been afraid to offend the Nazis by showing critical films in any other country, even outside Germany. Now, however, most producers realize they might as well kiss their cash good-by. Hitler will never relinquish it.

With the U. S. film market in Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia and Italy now dwindled to almost nothing, interesting point will be whether the film executives—all Jewish—throw off Nazi censorship. Hollywood betting is that they won't.

Note—When Gentile screen writers and actors contemplated a drive to place an embargo on all goods from Germany, Jewish executives remained aloof.

Hollywood Merry-Go-Round

General Pershing will come to Hollywood soon to produce a war film, will take part in the picture himself. . . . When Harry Hopkins was here, he called up the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio and asked if he could pay a visit. "Hell, no," was the reply, "we wouldn't let Harry Hopkins on the lot." . . . Los Angeles is the only city on the West Coast where there is anti-Secitic feeling. It is being whipped up by pamphlets in various parts of the city. . . . Secretary Ickes, who was out here in the fall, referred to the movie studios, surrounded by high walls, as "concentration camps."

Carole Lombard

Carole Lombard, a most popular actress among other movie people, had a heart-to-heart talk with Harry Hopkins recently. He was curious whether her statement favoring high income taxes was a publicity stunt or whether she really meant it. He came away convinced that she was sincere.

Miss Lombard told him she had risen to stardom from very humble beginnings, had no trouble living on $20,000 a year and thought it was an obligation on her part to give the rest in taxes to Uncle Sam. Furthermore, she delivered a little sermon on the idea that no wealthy person should object to paying high taxes.

"Well," said Harry Hapkins, as the conversation ended, "if Shirley Temple rated a 30-minute visit with the President, I think you rate a whole week-end."

Movie Slump

Biggest worry in Hollywood today is the slump in motion picture attendance. Pictures are not grossing the big profits they once did. Theatre owners report a falling off of attendance all over the country.

Hollywood execs can't find the explanation. They believe their product bigger, more spectacular, more expensive. But just the same motion picture attendance keeps fallinf off.

A careful survey of the market, together with a huddle of experts, is now taking place to get at the reasons why.

• SERIAL STORY

LOVERS AWEIGH

BY BETTY WALLACE

COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

JUDY ALCOTT—admiral's daughter. She faced a choice between two navy suitors.

DWIGHT CAMPBELL—ambitious lieutenant. He faced a choice between his wife and duty.

JACK HANLEY—flying sailor. He faced a test of a patient love.

MARVEL HASTINGS—navy wife. She faced the test of being a good sailor.

* * *

CHAPTER XXX

JUDY was trembling as she slipped behind the wheel of her car. Tears stung her eyes. Marvel and Dwight were going to have a baby. This would make right all the tortured little conflicts between them. Marvel would soften, she'd not be so selfish and demanding. The baby would absorb her time and emotion, and when Dwight was away at sea, her life would not be empty.

"Oh, I'm glad for them!" Judy thought, "Glad!" Like a thick fog lifting to let sunshine drench down on the dampened land, happiness was warming through her. All the doubts and fears she harbored in her heart so long were gone.

Jack, who had waited and trusted, was in the hospital. She must go to him. Right now! She glanced at her wrist watch. It was very late — nearly eleven o'clock. But she had to see him. Even if he were asleep. But he wouldn't be. He'd be sitting up, reading one of the books she had brought him.

The nurse in the hospital was doubtful. "We don't allow visitors so late."

"I must see him! I'm sure if Commander Sloane is about—"

"I'd have to telephone him, he's not here."

Judy waited impatiently while the nurse phoned. At last she was told, "You may go up. But I'm afraid he'll be asleep."

"I won't wake him if he is," said Judy. "Only, I'm so sure he won't be!"

* * *

THIS thing that had happened to her was so miraculous, she could not believe that Jack, who loved her, had not felt it, too. And when she stood in the door of his room and saw the pool of light from the lamp on the bedside stand, her heart seemed to give a shout of gladness. He was up!

"Jack!" She ran to him, and her lips brushed his. There was moisture on her cheek. He felt it, and said wonderingly, "Judy, what's happened? What brought you here?"

"Oh, darling, darling, I'm so happy. I'm alive! Alive, for the first time in months. Oh, Jack!" She took his hand. She sat on the side of the bed. He smiled at her.

"Jack, tell me, did you ever feel safe and sure, all the time—did you feel that it was all over?"

He looked at her and said gravely, "I've been worried, Judy. But I'm not now. Something's happened. You're different."

"I'm alive, I tell you! Oh, darling, I didn't want you to know, but I—I was unsure. And I—I did see Dwight."

"I know that," he said quietly.

"Jack!" Suddenly she felt the pain that he must have known, and she said, "Oh, my dear, I wouldn't have done it if I had realized."

"You had to get over it," he said. "Like being stage struck. You outgrew it. I was willing to wait."

* * *

SHE put her cheek against his. "That's all you've been doing, endlessly, waiting . . . waiting . . . Waiting for me to get my sense back!" Her fingers touched his hair.

"But the waiting's over now," he said. "Isn't it?"

"Yes. Tonight Marvel came back. And I—I knew all the time that Dwight was hurt and lonely and that he still loved her. But I didn't want to believe it." Then she said, "I was fair to you, Jack. You must understand that. I told him right from the beginning—the first time I saw him, after we became engaged—that I was going to marry you."

"I never doubted that, Judy." His brown eyes were so clear.

She clung to him. "I haven't been worth your trust, Jack. You're so fine!"

"But you have been worth it," he smiled. "If you weren't the sweet, honest girl you are, you wouldn't be here now, would you?" And then his arms tightened around her. His mouth was warm and hungry on hers. "It's been such a long time, darling. Sometimes I thought I'd never have the patience to stick it out. You're so wonderful. I was afraid he'd get you."

She lay very still. She said, "It was a dream. A mirage. I can't understand why I didn't know it before. But I just clung to it, I just kept it with me and nursed it—"

His understanding was sweet. She said, "And you're handsome, too. Aren't you?" She tried to laugh. "I shouldn't be here. No doubt the nurse is scandalized." She touched his cheek. "Marvel and Dwight are going to have a baby. Isn't that swell?"

He was really surprised at that. "How do you know?"

* * *

SHE confessed, "I eavesdropped."

Then seh said, "We'll never speak of them again. When we see them, we'll pretend that nothing—" Her voice broke. That wouldn't be easy. You couldn't dismiss the past just by making up your mind to forget. Possibly Jack would never forget the anguish she had caused him. And Marvel would never forget. And Judy . . . No, Judy would never really forget either.

He said tenderly, "That's part of living, Judy. Learning."

"I've learned. Truly I have."

There was a silence. They clung to each other's fingers. At last he said, "Suppose we don't wait a week after I get out? I can walk. I walked this afternoon. Maybe the doctor will let me go home tomorrow."

"Silly!" She smiled at him. "If you threaten to leave the hospital before the doctor says you're strong enough, you know what I'll do? I'll make the chaplain come right up here and marry us here! And then you'll have to do what I say!"

His eyes lighted, his big arms reached for her. "Judy!" After a while he said, "That's not a bad idea, Miss Alcott. Not a bad idea at all. I may hold you to that." And he was kissing her again, until her heart was hammering madly and the room was spinning around her.

"I love you, Judy," he said huskily.

"I love you, too. Oh, darling, I love you so much!"

When the nurse peered in, a moment later, she said grumpily, "Hmmm! If you don't marry her now, Lieutenant Hanley, it just won't be respectable!"

Common Sense About Constipation

A doctor would tell you that the best thing to do with any ailment is to get at its cause. If you're constipated, don't fiddle with makeshift remedies. Find out what's giving you the trouble!

Chances are you won't have to look very far if you eat just the things most people do. Most likely you don't get enough "bulk"! And "bulk" doesn't mean just a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a bowel movement.

If this is what you lack, your ticket is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains the "bulk" you need plus the intestinal tonic, vitamin B,—and it's not a drug, not a medicine!

Eat All-Bran every day, drink plenty of water, and join the "regulars"! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

Muddy, Sallow Broken-Out Skin?

Many Never Know Why—But Reason May Be This

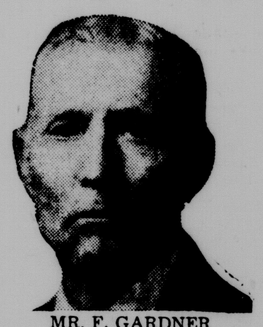
Many persons with pimples, and muddy, unhealthy looking skin go on being miserable when they might easily clear them up in a short time. Oftentimes slowed-down activity on the part of the stomach and bowels are at the bottom of these troubles. Food turns sour in stomach and bowels. Too many wastes and acids go into the blood and these poisons are one of the main causes that often make your skin break out, grow muddy—your eyes look dull, your breath bad and keep you tired and depressed.

Ask your druggist for Tanlac. Tanlac is made expressly to help tone up weak, sluggish stomach and bowels. It has been used successfully by millions for over 20 years. Get Tanlac today.

MADE NO MISTAKE IN GIVING THE KRUGON A TRIAL

Mr. Gardner Relieved of Dreadful Pains In His Arm and Hip; Bloating and Gas Pains In His Stomach After Eating Also Caused Distress; Now Says, "Wouldn't Be Without Kru-Gon."

Many medicines have been introduced here in Sedalia and vicinity in the past several years but today hundreds throughout this section agree there never was a medicine they have taken before that fit their case like the Kru-Gon. For example, read what Mr. F. Gardner, 101 North Engineer Street, Sedalia, a well known local gentleman nearly seventy years of age, said recently in talking with the KruGon Man at the McFarland and Robinson Drug Co., 104 West Main Street, this city:



MR. F. GARDNER

"KruGon proved to be the very medicine I had been wanting for years," said Mr. Gardner, "Improper elimination had been at the source of my poor health and in spite of all the medicines I had taken I only grew steadily worse. I could not get a good nights sleep, was disturbed frequently and up at all hours of the night. Then pains began to settle in my right arm and hip and my fingers were terribly affected. For ten or fifteen years I had been in this dreadful condition. My digestion was upset too and I was certain to suffer with gas pains and bloating after every meal I ate. I lost my appetite, had no desire for foods and always had that tired, worn-out feeling. I was really at the place of not knowing what to do next when my sister-in-law persuaded me to give this KruGon a trial and the difference it made in my stubborn case was surprising."

"This laxative-tonic formula has done more for me than anything I have ever taken before," continued Mr. Gardner, "It did not take KruGon long to bring about proper elimination of those intestional poisons and from then on I began to show rapid improvement. Those pains have now left my body, sleep soundly throughout the night and arise each morning rested and refreshed. My bloating has been eliminated too and I get real enjoyment out of my meals without distress afterwards. I would not be without KruGon if I could help it and I want others who suffer as I did to realize that they can make no mistake in trying this laxative-tonic formula."

The KruGon Man is daily meeting the local public at the McFarland and Robinson Drug Co., 104 West Main Street, this city, where he is introducing and explaining the action of this medical compound.

TRIBUTE IS GIVEN JEFFERSON FROM THE PRESIDENT

Speaks At Ground Breaking For Memorial At Capital

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—(AP)—President Roosevelt, speaking at ground breaking exercises for a memorial to Thomas Jefferson, praised Jefferson today for "establishing the practical operation of the American government as a democracy and not an autocracy."

Standing on the south bank of the tidal basin, the site chosen for a $3,000,000 shrine to the third president, Mr. Roosevelt said that millions of Americans who visit the capital yearly will have in days to come a sense of gratitude that an adequate national memorial to Jefferson at last has been erected.

"For more than 50 years," he said, "Thomas Jefferson, the third president of the United States, has been recognized by our citizens not only for the outstanding part which he took in the drafting of the Declaration of Independence, itself, not only for his authorship of the Virginia statute for religious freedom, but also for the services he rendered in establishing the practical operation of the American government as a democracy and not an autocracy.

"For very many years, it has seemed appropriate that with Washington and Lincoln, his services should be held in memory by the erection of a monument of equal dignity. We are breaking ground, today, for such a memorial."

The site was chosen after months of controversy, some of it revolving around the fact that a number of the famed Japanese cherry trees bordering the tidal basin must be removed.

Mr. Roosevelt selected the 147th anniversary of the adoption of the American bill of rights for the ground-breaking rites.

JEWS START PAYING ON FINE EXACTED

BERLIN, Dec. 15—(AP)—The first of the four installment days on which German Jews must pay $400,000,000 tribute for the slaying of Ernst Vom Rath, Paris legation secretary, was a drab, matter-of-fact affair entirely lacking in drama.

Berlin banks had comparatively little to do with today's $100,000,000 as the Jews had taken pains to arrange all details so the payments would strike no snags.

There were no special guards at any of the finance ministry's offices where the fines were payable, nor were there any signs of disturbance.

Jews and Gentiles paying fines, taxes or other bills approached tellers' windows with no attempts being made by officials to separate the Jews from the Gentiles.

Any casual visitor would not have known this was a special tribute day for the Jews. Among the taxpayers were no more Jews than on an ordinary day.

The reason for this was said to be that each Jew had received a written order indicating what his share of the Vom Rath fine was and, as soon as he had raised the necessary cash, had sent his money to the finance ministry without waiting for the last day.

One feature was the absence of automobiles before the offices. Jews no longer own cars or drivers' licenses, having lost both by the decree of December 3.

ANOTHER ARREST IN DRUG INQUIRY

NEW YORK, Dec. 15—(AP)—George Vernard, Canadian manager and agent in charge of market operations for McKesson and Robbins, Inc., drug firm, was arraigned today in federal court on a complaint charging violation of the securities act pertaining to filing of false statements with the New York stock exchange.

Bail was set at $3,500 after Vernard waived hearing. He was connected with W. W. Smith and Co., which allegedly handled sales for the drug firm in Canada.

Vernard was the third official of McKesson and Robbins to be arrested, F. Donald Coster, president and George E. Deitrich, assistant treasurer and assistant vice president, having been arraigned yesterday in Fairfield, Conn. They, too, waived hearing on charges of violating the securities act and posted $5,000 bail each.

The seeming discrepancy of $18,000,000 in assets of the drug firm, discovered at the time reorganization proceedings were filed last week, led to an investigation of the multiple activities of the firm and a probe into the past of Coster.

SOVIET AID TO A RUSSIAN HELD

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15—(AP)—The Soviet government came to the aid today of Mikhail Gorin, Russian travel bureau agent, held here on federal espionage charges.

Mikhail Ivanovich Ivanushkin, Soviet vice consul at New York, arrived here by airliner last night and after visiting Gorin at the county jail, where he is under $25,000 bond, announced he would provide the prisoner with an attorney.

The vice consul did not visit Hafis Salich, Russian-born naturalized American, arrested with Gorin and also held under bond of $25,000.

"I came to see the physical condition of this Soviet citizen and learn his well being," Ivanushkin said. "I did not discuss his case with him. I will see him tomorrow after a conference."

Federal officials maintained their refusal to comment on the case, evidence in which is scheduled to be presented to the federal grand jury here next week. A hearing on the espionage charges is set for Dec. 23.

Corin and Salich, the latter a former Berkeley, Calif., policeman who resigned from the naval intelligence service last May 1, are accused of obtaining documents and other information from the navy and sending them to Moscow.

NEGRO TRYING TO SELL CIGARS HELD

Clark Gayden, colored, arrested by Special Agents Lloyd Lawrence, J. B. Ellis and Special Police Officer Joe Kresham, after he had endeavored to sell some cigars, is being held in the city jail for investigation in connection with robbing a Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad box car.

Mr. Lawrence stated the Negro had in possession cigars which he believed had been taken from the railroad car along with a case of tobacco, all totalling a value of approximately $50.

Charges will be filed in the court of Judge C. W Bente, sitting as ex-officio justice of the peace Friday morning it was indicated.

INVADES HOSPITAL AND KILLS PATIENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15—(AP)—A young man invaded a ward of the San Francisco hospital today, shot and killed a patient and critically wounded a policeman.

Inspector Jerome Smith said the assailant gave his name as George Dally, 21. He was captured in a corridor. The officer said revenge evidently was the motive.

The victim was Morris Cornpropst, 24, who was being guarded as the result of a knife and gun fight on Nov. 30, when he was wounded.

Policeman Walter Salisbury, 46, who was guarding Cornpropst, was wounded.

In the fight Nov. 30, Cornpropst, a teamster, was shot in the abdomen. Mrs. Ann Dally, 65, and her daughter, Betty, 23, also were wounded.

Inspector Smith said Cornpropst had entered the Dally home and fought with Mrs. Dally for some undetermined reason, and that Dally's sister, Sue, shot Cornpropst when he attempted to flee.

Sue Dally, 22, was Cornpropst's divorced wife. Both Sue and George Dally were jailed.

MRS. FIELD WAS INJURED IN WRECK

Mrs. R. F. Field, an English instructor in Central College at Fayette, was seriously injured shortly after noon today when the automobile she was driving left the highway 12 miles north of Sedalia on highway 65 and crashed into a tree.

Mrs. Field, a sister of Mrs. E. L. Preston the wife of E. L. Preston publicity director of the Missouri State Fair, was coming to Sedalia to have a short visit with Mrs. Preston and family.

She received a fracture of the left leg at the knee, a severe cut on her chin, chest injuries and bruises about her body.

Mrs. Field was brought to the Bothwell hospital.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Ralph Simonds, of Chicago, who was called here by the death of her uncle, Barnard Tillberry, returned home today.

Mrs. J. R. Tippie, formerly Miss Virginia Callison, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Ruth Riley, of the Dean apartments. She will visit with relatives in Kansas City, Windsor and Warrensburg, until after Christmas. Mr. Tippie will join her here for the holidays, and they will then go to Muskogee, Okla., to visit Mr. Tippie's relatives, going from there on down south. They came to Missouri from Milwaukee.

HOPES FOR MAN AS LABOR SECRETARY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—(AP) Bishop Adna W. Leonard of the Methodist Episcopal church, Pittsburgh, Pa., told the house committee investigating unAmericanism today he hoped a man would be appointed secretary of labor, the only cabinet post now held by a woman.

Bishop Leonard remarked he intended no disrespect to the present secretary, Frances Perkins, but said the post should be held by a man who was nationally known and "who could render in that department the statesmanlike service" being rendered by Cordell Hull as secretary of state.

Testifying on what was scheduled as the committee's final public hearing, Bishop Leonard denounced agitators whom he accused of using labor organizations and youth movements to create strife.

Labor should discourage in every way, he said, "designing agitators and cunning propagandists who deceive the very elect and in the name of labor create turmoil, bitterness, class hatred, and thus pave the way for revolution."

While he declared organized capital was not free from "social crimes and sins," and the right of labor to better its conditions was recognized, the witness told the committee labor had no right "to seize other men's properties, prevent other men from working or commit sabotage in any form."

Advocating continuance of the committee's work as a primary means of combatting subversive activities, Bishop Leonard declared restoration of confidence in the federal government was imperative.

"Further experimentation in legislation having in it the basic elements of the nationalisms of other countries should cease," he said.

FIRE DESTROYS A DEPARTMENT STORE

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 15.—(AP) The Globe Department Store was destroyed today by a spectacular early morning fire.

Flames, racing quickly through the merchandise, gutted the three-story building of the store proper and spread into the fourth floor of the seven-floor annex.

The annex fire was brought under control only after a hard fight by 150 firemen. Twelve hose and five ladder companies battled the flames.

Patrolmen L. J. Seehan and fireman saved the life of the Globe night watchman who was trapped in the basement.

A preliminary estimate of the damage was $120,000.

Services at Temple Beth El are held regularly Friday evening at 8 o'clock and Sunday morning at 10.

DIVORCE IS PETITIONED BY MRS. NORMA J. PELLETIER

Alleging general indignities Mrs. Norma Jeanne Pelletier filed suit in the circuit court today, asking for a divorce from Joseph O. Pelletier, to whom, the petition states, she was married February 27, 1932. They separated in August 1934, in Boston, Mass.

The petition states that the defendant is now believed to be in the state of California. Plaintiff asks for the restoration of her maiden name, Norma Jeanne Constant.

RELIEF CRISIS AT ATLANTIC CITY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 15.—(AP)—Suffering the after-effects of a poor summer season, and threatened with a $150,000 tax deficit and payless paydays for municipal employes, this resort city had an acute relief problem on its hands today.

The city's relief administrator was under bail on a charge of refusing relief to needy persons and hundreds of aged persons recently dropped from the WPA were clamoring for old age pensions or other help.

Louis Silverman, chairman of the "Workers' Protective Association," warned city and county officials last night "hungry men and women are not going to wait long for relief—they will go out and steal before meekly submitting to starvation."

More than a hundred aged men and women stormed a meeting of the Atlantic County board of freeholders yesterday pleading hunger and demanding help. They were advised by freeholder Howard Reed to "march on the local warehouse of the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation and take food stored there." He charged food was kept there "until it spoils."

None of them went there, but the store manager, Thomas Fox, said nothing of that sort was necessary because "there's plenty of stuff for everybody, and relief authorities can get all they want." He said local relief authorities never had made use of the FSCC's supplies.

CALF IS TREATED IN AN OXYGEN TENT

DENVER, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Doctors at the Jewish Consumptives Relief Society sanitorium here watched carefully today over the biggest infant they had ever treated in an oxygen tent—a seven weeks' old Holstein heifer calf.

Nurses and other attendants hovered about as the calf, stricken with double pneumonia, was placed yesterday on a specially built bed and administered oxygen by specialists. It was still under the tent and "doing all right" today, doctors said.

Charles I. Manners, livestock superintendent of the sanitorium, said the usual treatment was used because the calf, one of the institution's milk herd, was "too valuable to lose."

The young patient is of noble lineage, Manners explained. Its sire, Carnation Walker Spoffard King, was of a line of champions.

Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty; they shall behold the land that is very far off.—Isiah 33:17.

EARLY GAINS ON STOCKS REDUCED

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Profit taking sapped the vigor of another stock market rally today and early gains running to 2 or more points were substantially reduced or cancelled in many cases at the close.

Overnight buying orders were heavy enough to swamp the ticker tape for an interval after the opening, but traders soon began to cash in on Wednesday's sharp upswing and the pace slowed appreciably. While numerous plus signs were in evidence when the final gong sounded, moderate losers were also plentiful. Transfers were around 1,800,000 shares.

Wall Street continued to pin its faith on business prospects and extensive armament spending over coming months, but the fact the market had advanced for four consecutive sessions caused some commission house customers to stand aside pending a possible technical reaction.

Homemakers Met At McFarland Home

The December meeting of the Bowling Green Homemakers was held Thursday, December 8th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McFarland with Miss Flossie Ferguson assisting hostess. At noon a delicious dinner was served.

The president, Mrs. Frank Summers presided at the afternoon business meeting. At this time plans were made for the annual Christmas party which will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. McFarland. Committees for this are: Refreshments, Mrs. E. H. Thompson, Mrs. W. A. Moore and Miss Audrey Wagner; Decoration, Mrs. Floyd McFarland, Mrs. W. P. Spaits and Mrs. George Anderson. Games, Mrs. Ollie Lotspiech and Miss Flossie Ferguson.

Mrs. Montgomery was present and said the club had reached the standard of achievement for the closing year. This is a goal the club annually strives for.

Mrs. Montgomery read the standard of achievement that has been set up for 1939 and the club will plan accordingly. Mrs. G. W. Wagner reported on the talk given by Dr. Bradford at Sedalia in "Child Health." This topic is of interest to all whether small children are in the home or not. The interests of all are allied to that of the coming generation.

The January meeting will be at the P. A. Carry home, north of Beaman and all in Bowling Green township who have home problems are invited. At that time plans will be formulated for next year's program and any special problem may be placed in the program of the year.

Meeting By S. O. S. Home Economics Club

The S. O. S. Home Economics club of the Palo community met at the home of Mrs. J. R. Poague on December 7. There were 13 members and two visitors present. Mrs. Lawrence Miller became a member of the club. The meeting was called to order by the president and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The program for the coming year was read by the president and was accepted by the club. Mrs. J. R. Poague our child development leader, read a very interesting article on teasing children. Roll call was answered with a Christmas poem or thought. A Christmas pageant was given by the members and Christmas carols were sung. A reading, "Are you going home for Christmas," was given by Miss Maxine Ridenour. Refreshments of ginger bread with whipped cream and cocoa was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be January 4 with Mrs. Chas. Gilcrest. Roll call to be answered with two words that are often mispronounced and the correct pronounciation of them.

Entertains Cousin From Birmingham, Eng.

Mrs. Ray Logan, 1014 South Kentucky avenue, had a very delightful visit recently from a cousin, Miss Edith Savage, of Birmingham, England. She was accompanied to Sedalia by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Dingley and a cousin, Mrs. George Smith, of Mount Leonard, and the relatives enjoyed the day together.

Miss Savage is making a tour of this country. She stopped in New York City where she met a number of notable persons, then visited Cleveland and Cincinnati, coming on to Marshall, Mount Leonard and Sedalia. From Missouri she will go to Houston, Texas, on to the coast cities and back to New York to sail for home. She has been a teacher in one of the schools in England for twenty-four years.

Miss Savage spoke with praise of Sedalia's fine school buildings, the many all weather streets, and the general appearance of the city.

TODAY'S PATTERN

Shirtwaister Frock Handy On Cold Winter Mornings

There's nothing like a trim tailored shirtwaist dress to slip on of a busy winter morning. It won't crush and muss under your heavy coat, and it always looks smart and businesslike. This design, Pattern 8356, has individual little touches about it that give a refreshingly different flavor to the classic shirtwaist style. Note that the pockets are notched to match the collar, and that it has the graceful new gored skirt.

Make this in both silk and thin wool—faille, tie silk, flat crepe, flannel or wool crepe—in some bright pretty color like violet, fern green, Burgundy or teal blue, to contrast with your dark winter coat. The dress will have a finished, professionally tailored look.

Pattern 8356 is designed for sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 44, 46 48 and 50. Size 34 reuires 4 1-4 yards of 39-inch material. If collar and cuffs are in contrast one-half yard is required.

The new FALL AND WINTER PATTERN BOOK, 32 pages of attractive designs for every size and every occasion is now ready. Photographs show dresses made from these patterns being worn; a feature you will enjoy. Let the charming designs in this new book help you in your sewing. One pattern and the new Fall and Winter Pattern Book—25 cents. Pattern or book alone 15 cents.

Made from a country recipe, this fruit cake will mellow in the glass dish it is baked in. On Christmas Day, both cake and casserole dish will make the perfect "personal" gift.

CHRISTMAS DRAWS NEAR —SO MAKE FRUIT CAKES EARLY AND AVOID RUSH

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer .....

Latest wire reports from the North Pole state that Santa Claus and his wife have begun making their christmas fruit cakes. Wise fruit cakers invariably bake well in advance. They know that Christmas cake, like friendships, grow better with aging.

For many years, Lucy Maltby of Corning, N. Y., has perfected a new and better recipe for me to pass on to readers. And every year, readers write saying Miss Maltby certainly knows her fruit cake. Now it is time for Christmas baking again and our old friend Lucy is ready for us.

Casserole Fruit Cake

(Makes two Fruit Cakes, 2½ pounds each. Each cake fits a 1½ quart casserole)

One and one-half cups seedless raisins, ½ cup seeded raisins, ½ cup cut preserved orange peel, ¼ cup cut preserved lemon peel, ¾ cup sliced candied cherries, 1 cup sliced citron, 1 cup broken walnut meats, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, ½ teaspoon cloves, 2 teaspoons nutmeg, ⅛ teaspoon black pepper, 1 cup butter, 1 cup granulated sugar, 4 eggs, ½ cup light molasses, ¼ cup fruit juice, 2 teaspoons vanilla extract or rum flavoring, 3½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt.

TOPPING: One-half cup seedless raisins, ½ cup broken walnut meats, ½ cup almonds, ½ cup finely cut citron, ¼ cup sliced candied cherries, 3 tablespoons honey, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, 1 tablespoon fruit juice.

Rinse raisins in hot water, drain and dry on a towel. Slice seeded ones. Rinse peels and fruits, drain and dry on a towel before cutting. Combine fruits, peels, nuts and spices, blend. Cream butter, add sugar and cream thoroughly. Add beaten eggs and mix. Add molasses, fruit juice and flavoring, and mix. Add flour sifted with baking powder and salt and beat. Add fruit and nut mixture and beat until well blended. Pour into well greased 1½ quart heat resistant glass casseroles. Top with blended topping ingredients part of which may be worked into a design on the top of the cake. Cover and bake in a slow oven (250 deg. to 275 deg. F.) for about 2½ hours. Test for doneness before removing from oven. Baked weight about five pounds for the two cakes.

Menu

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit and pineapple juice, dry cereal, broiled mackerel, butter and lemon, johnnycake, gooseberry jam, coffee, milk.

DINNER: Chopped mixed green salad, roast duck, apple and onion stuffing, gravy, roasted sweet potatoes, buttered cauliflower, cherry pie, cheese, coffee, milk.

SUPPER: Clear tomato soup in cups, deviled duck sandwiches, watercress sandwiches, orange layer cake, tea, milk.

A herd of Mexican longhorns is among the "props" sought by A. L. Vollman, who will produce the gigantic spectacle, "Calvalcade fo the Golden West's at the 1939 World's Fair of the west on Treasure Island.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By CORA ANTHONY
Director of A&P Kitchen

MEAT and egg prices are lower. The chief changes will be noted in pork loins and in lamb cuts. More fresh eggs are arriving which should help make Christmas baking more economical and pre-Christmas meals quicker and easier to prepare.

Butter prices stopped climbing and even dropped off a cent or two, which makes it more than ten cents cheaper a pound than last year at this season.

Orange juice is now almost as cheap to serve as tomato juice. Most people like both but not all food budgets can always compass orange juice and for those people a treat is in store. Grapefruit and apples are also very reasonable.

Three Sunday dinner menus follow

Low Cost Dinner

Scalloped Potatoes with Shoulder Pork Chops
Buttered Cabbage
Bread and Butter
Hot Apple Sauce — Gingerbread
Tea or Coffee — Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Baked Half Ham — Glazed Pineapple
Mashed Potatoes — Spinach
Bread and Butter
Orange Spanish Cream
Tea or Coffee — Milk

Very Special Dinner

Consomme Julienne
Roast Lamb — Pan-browned Potatoes
Sweet Sour Green Beans
Tomato Salad
Rolls and Butter
Vanilla Ice Cream with Chocolate Sauce
Cup Cakes — Coffee

"---Get along LITTLE GIFTIE"

Mother used to have one fascinating bureau drawer. In it were numbers of scented tissue-wrapped parcels. Gifts. Not gifts she had selected. Gifts she had received — beribboned, ornate, useless. Mother kept them all year. At Christmas she got them out — and sent them to others. Once in a while the cards got mixed and mother and her friends bowed coldly to each other in great chagrin for some time afterwards.

Nowadays mother's bureau drawer is practically empty. The little doggies that changed hands every Christmas no longer pass along between mother and her cronies.

Advertising pages have given all of them a new view of what's new — wanted — usable in the way of Christmas presents. They report things that are fun to purchase—fun to give—and fun to get. Gifts that stay put — because people really want them. Gifts that actually cost less than the old-fashioned boomerang presents. Why not consult the pages of this publication? See what's new —and wanted—this year by your friends too.

Beginning with this issue we are putting into effect a new system on our special week end prices. Instead of having WEEK END specials, our prices will be effective EVERY DAY.

We believe our customers will appreciate being able to buy their foods fresh every day at a saving rather than buy a large supply on the week end.

We can offer our customers this new feature because our costs of operation is the same every day, owing to the fact our sales force is on straight salaries and full time.

• RAISING A FAMILY

SINGING WELL-BELOVED CHRISTMAS CAROLS WILL MAKE YULE HAPPIER

By Olive Roberts Barton

Before Christmas, it would be a happy idea for the family to get out the old song books and learn the words and lovely tunes of the best known Christmas carols.

Then on Christmas Eve, with candles burning in the windows and in the quiet hush that precedes bedtime, young and old will find something so sweet to remember as they join their voices in song, that the little trouble learning takes will be repaid over and over.

Most people know "Holy Night: Peaceful Night," sometimes known as "Silent Night: Holy Night." But by chance you may forget, so I shall quote the first verse:

"Silent night; holy night,
All is calm, all is bright,
'Round you Virgin, Mother and Child,
Holy Infant so tender and mild,
Sleep in heavenly peace,
Sleep in heavenly peace."

Haydn composed the tune, and I find this other version of it, composed in 1818:

"Holy night: peaceful night,
Through the darkness beams a light,
Yonder where thy sweet vigils keep,
O'er the Babe who in silent sleep,
Rests in heavenly peace,
Rests in heavenly peace."

Children of all ages love "O Little Town of Bethlehem." It begins:

"O little town of Bethlehem, how still we see thee lie,
Above thy deep and dreamless sleep
The silent stars go by;
Yet in thy dark streets shineth
The everlasting light;
The hopes and fears of all the years
Are met in thee tonight."

Another favorite is "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear:"

"It came upon the midnight clear,
That glorious song of old,
From angels bending near the earth,
To touch their harps of gold;
Peace to the earth, good will to men,
From heaven's gracious King,
The world in solemn stillness lay
To hear the angels sing."

There are so many beautiful songs. A few that I recommend are "God Rest You Merry, Gentlemen," "The First Noel," "Noel Let Us Sing," "Once in Royal David's City," "Joy to the World." But why not get a book of Christmas carols to keep?

Average life of an automobile is 8.4 years.

Before eating the plant known as "miner's lettuce," early California Indians placed it near a nest of red ants. The ants, in running over the leaves, left a deposit of formic acid, which served to give the plant a vinegar flavor.

There never has been a round-the-world airplane flight in that such a flight would require girdling the globe at its greatest circumference, either along the equator or along a single degree of longitude.

A small, rare mammal related to the monkey and found only in Madras and Ceylon, the slender loris is a weird creature because of its large, brilliant eyes. Astonishingly deliberate in movements, it approaches its prey with almost imperceptible advances.

CAUTION IN HANDLING RABBITS WILL PREVENT TULAREMIA

Now is the time when hunters pick up tularemia while dressing rabbits for eating purposes. Cases are beginning to appear in most of the midwestern states. In practically every case it is found that the patient was exposed to infection while dressing a rabbit with his bare hands.

The germ that causes tularemia occurs primarily in rabbits and ground squirrels that are sick with this disease. Deer flies and wood ticks which have fed on the blood of infected rabbits sometimes bite human beings and spread the infection in this manner. Obviously the best method of protection against tularemia is to avoid the bites of deer flies and wood ticks and to cover the hands with gloves so that any injury to the skin will not prove to be a place in which the tularemia germ may enter the body.

* * *

It has been suggested that hunters might very well avoid tularemia by eating only those rabbits which are capable of running when pursued. It is usually a sick rabbit that has the disease—the kind of rabbit that can be knocked over with a stick.

When tularemia appears on the body there is usually an ulcer at the point where the germs entered through the skin. This ulcer appears a few days after the rabbits have been dressed. The patient then develops aching of the muscles and joints, weakness, chills and fever—the condition lasting for several weeks.

Some cases of tularemia have been reported in which the infection entered through the eye because the person who was dressing the rabbits stopped to rub his eye with the bare hand during the dressing process.

* * *

The rubber glove is one of the most useful pieces of apparatus ever invented for the prevention of disease. Many diseases occur by the process which is known as the hand-to-mouth infection. If the hands are kept thoroughly washed and if they are protected with rubber gloves at any time when they may come in contact with infectious material, much unnecessary disease can be avoided.

Repeatedly I have emphasized the importance of cooking completely all meat which may possibly be infested with parasites. This applies particularly to wild game which does not undergo the kind of scientific inspection that is regularly given to the meat of cattle, sheep and hogs in the commercial slaughter houses.

Early lamp wicks were made of dried reeds or moss. In succeeding centuries, they were made of flax or silk.

Elected President From His Front Porch

SUCCESSFUL small-town lawyer, twice governor of Ohio, congressman and author of the highly protectionist tariff which bore his name, William McKinley was a natural selection of the Republican national convention at St. Louis in 1896. He received 661 votes out of a total of 906 on the first ballot.

Then followed his campaign, one of the most unique in American history. McKinley never left his home town, Canton, O. He made some 300 speeches from his front porch, addressing in all at least 1,000,000 persons. And he was elected.

Promptly he plunged into a momentous administration, which included the war with Spain, the annexation of Puerto Rico, the Philippine Islands, Guam, all of which presented great problems to the President. His handling of the new possessions, however, proved singularly efficient. Later in his first term, Samoa was also acquired and the Hawaiian Islands were finally annexed.

The result was that McKinley, at the close of his first term, had achieved tremendous prestige. His policies were generally approved, the man himself commanded sincere respect. He was re-elected in triumph. But a few months later he was shot while speaking at the Pan American Exposition at Buffalo, N. Y. He died a few days later, Sept. 14, 1901. He was buried at Canton, his home town, where his body lies today beside that of his wife in the imposing McKinley National Monument. The President is shown here on a stamp of the new U. S. regular series.

SLIGHT DECLINE ON GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—(AP)—Downward tendencies prevailed in Chicago wheat values today except during a brief interval at the outset.

A reactionary drift of the corn market and of Winnipeg wheat quotations was conducive to selling. It was asserted the Argentine government wheat board had started offering wheat to exporters.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were unchanged to ⅝ cent lower compared with yesterday's finish, Dec. 64¼c, May 663⁄4c to 665⁄8c; corn ⅝ to 1 cent down, Dec. 50c to 497⁄8c, May 521⁄4c to 521⁄8c, and oats ⅛ to ¼ cent.

Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised; he also is to be feared above all gods.—1 Chronicles 16:25.

MEETING HELD BY FORESTRY CLUB

The Maplewood Forestry club met at the Maplewood school December 7, with the president, J. W. Rissler in charge. Roll call was answered with, "One good reason we have forests." Several short talks were given by Ralph Banning, Mary Rissler and "Billy" Williams. The latter also gave a demonstration on how to mount a leaf and twig. Our leader, Miss Anna Franklin divided us into demonstration teams and also gave us some books on "How to plant small trees." A committee was appointed to collect wood specimens for mounting. They were: J. W. Rissler, J. E. Thompson, Bobby Barrick and Harvey Thompson. A committee was also appointed to get the wood for mounting the specimens on. They are Dorothy Helen White and Kathryn Uffman. Our leader gave each member some persimmon specimens to mount. J. W. Rissler, Dorothy H. White were fined one penny each for not having part of their material with them, which will be added to the club funds.

4-H club songs sung were "Four Leaf Clover" and "Follow the Gleam." The latter was accompanied by Mary Ed. Rissler at the piano and Miss Anna Franklin playing the mandolin. Miss Maurine Wetzel was in charge of several Christmas songs including Silent Night, Holy Night, Upon the House Top, Jingle Bells and Oh, Little Town of Bethlehem. The boys and girls played the Virginia Reel and later had a spelling match. Miss Anna Franklin was in charge of the refreshments.

Muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness generally yield promptly.
Better than the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Musterole has been used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. In three strengths: Regular, Children's (mild) and Extra Strong, 40¢. All druggists.
